

CME Commitment to Change

Iteration 2

Client & Project Info

Client: Kurt Snyder

- Continuing Medical Education Executive Director at Stanford University.
- Main point-of-contact for the CME Commitment to Change Project.

CME Commitment to Change Team Members

- Clayton
- Kris
- Lee
- Noah
- North

Mentor Feedback

- Organize static files better
- Modularity focus should mainly change the Django model layer
- Help pages look good & there should be more of them
- Block out expected time for features for next iterations
- Software looks ready for client meeting

Client Feedback

- Confirm modals are much cleaner to use than having to navigate to another page
- Help modals look good & provide clarity
- Course page layout needs reorganizing as it is a little confusing
- Implementation of suggested commitments is a great idea
 - Limiting edits would be better for providers
- Would like to deploy the software next iteration so users can play with it

Third Iteration Features

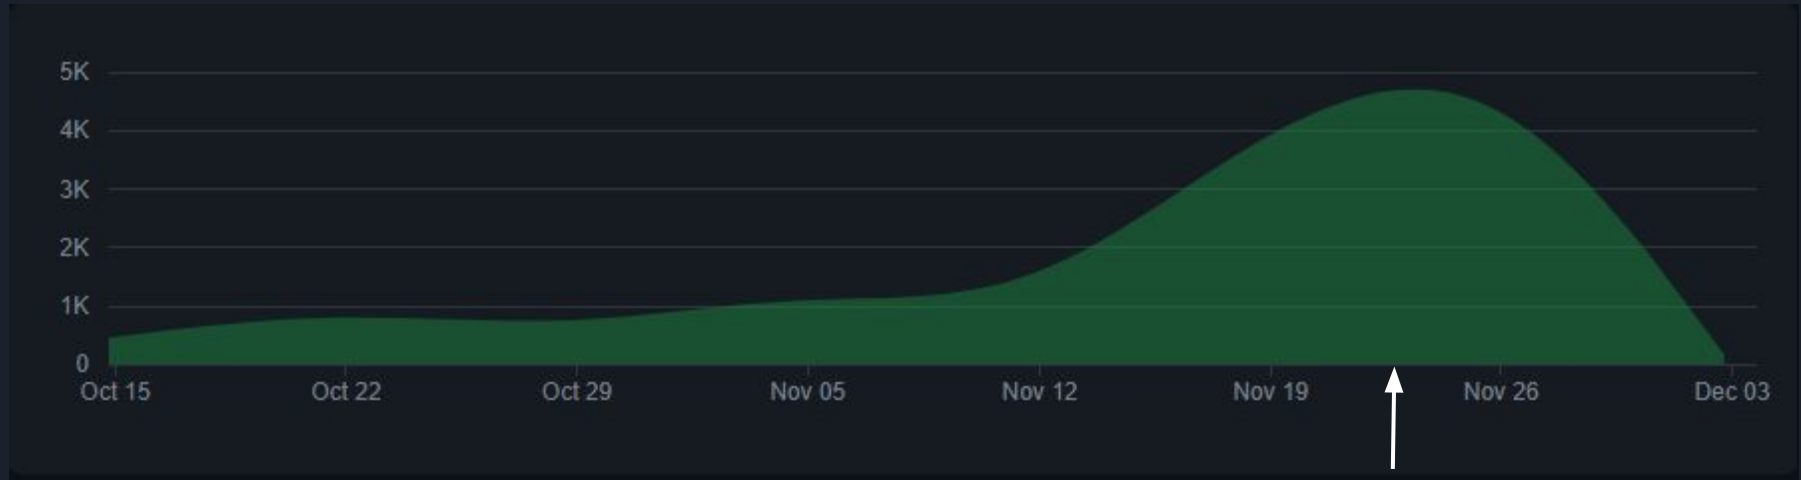

- Cloud deployment
- Improvements to course page - layout, more fields, etc
- More and better statistics for providers
- Ways for providers to interact with clinicians

Lessons Learned

- Clayton: Work on problems together more as a team.
- Kris: more communication between my group members
- Lee: Good code reviews require an active team
- Noah: Time constraints need to be incorporated when planning new features.
- North: More thorough planning for work and timing would be helpful

What did you do over Thanksgiving break?
